BEKA celebrates its 40th anniversary

BEKA associates, who specialise in the design, manufacture and sale of display instrumentation for use in flammable gas and combustible dust atmospheres, is celebrating its 40th anniversary in 2023.

Based in the historic area of central Hitchin, the company employs more than forty design, sales and production staff and now exports three quarters of its output worldwide. Owned by its directors, it retains its original objectives to provide reliable, cost effective instrumentation quickly.

In addition to an industry standard range of 4/20mA loop powered indicators for hazardous and safe areas, BEKA manufacture internationally certified serial data and fieldbus displays, totalisers, counters, beacons and panel lamps. Product innovation continues with the recent launch of Pageant a unique intrinsically safe, combined Operator Panel and PLC with plug-in input & output modules. Internationally certified for installation in Zones 1, 2, 21 and 22, it significantly reduces the cost of display and control in hazardous area.
